

2019 Washington County Fair Show

By Erica Brown

Open Class and 4-H Pygora Goat exhibitors were at the Washington County Fair from Thursday, July 26 through Sunday, July 29th. The 4-H Pygora Goat barn is overseen by Janet Tilp, and her husband, Andy Tilp is the Goat Barn superintendent. It takes a lot of work to put together a pen count, making sure all exhibitors have pens and tack space to work around in.

We hope more open class Pygorag goat breeders will come to the Washington County Fair next year. Julie Case, Washington County Fair Vendor Coordinator, a fellow PBA member, is working tirelessly to make improvements. The fair really is top notch and a great venue, a lot of public interest in the Pygora goats. And has the nicest premium payouts of any county fair I have attended.

Changes are coming to the Washington County Fair. Next year the dates are July 24 - August 2, 2020 and we don't know how many days or which days the Pygora goats will be on display and what date(s) the show will be. Please bring your does, wethers and fleece and keep this show vibrant and growing.

The sanctioned Pygora Goat Show was successful with the help of our volunteers: Rachel Kroon as Ring Steward, Philipa Peach as Show Clerk, Andy Tilp as Show Photographer, and Lianne Johansen passed out the ribbons.

The sanctioned Pygora Doe and Wether Show was judged by Lisa Roskopf. She had 13 Does and 12 Wethers to judge on Saturday, July 27th.

The Grand Champion Doe was Quail Hollow Farm Poppy Seed, bred and owned by Lindsay Brown and the Reserve Grand Champion Doe was HMS Acres Izze, bred and owned by Sydney Liao.

This is the second year we have had a Sanctioned Pygora Fleece Show at the Washington County Fair. We had 19 fleeces entered, both Type A and Type B Pygora Fiber was present for judging. With Janet Tilp's assistance, the Fleece Show was moved into the air-conditioned 4-H pavilion, where we enjoyed cooler temperatures and chairs to sit upon, while Lisa judged the show, giving a running commentary as she judged each fleece.

The Grand Champion Fleece was awarded to HMS Acres Maaza bred and owned by Hayden Liao and Reserve Grand Champion Fleece was won by HMS Acres Cosmo bred and owned by Sydney Liao. The Judges Choice Award, which included a $50.00 cash award and rosette, was awarded to Trillium Valley Farm Cream Puff, bred and owned by Janet Tilp.
